The Arab Educational Information Network

Mission

Shamaa provides specialists and stakeholders free access to the educational studies produced in the Arab countries via internet, as well as those available through international organizations with whom Shamaa has concluded cooperation agreements. Shamaa also welcomes submissions by researchers on education in the Arab countries produced worldwide. It indexes peer-reviewed articles, Master theses and PhD dissertations, books, reports and conference proceedings dated 2007 onwards in Arabic, English and French. The database includes bibliographic information, abstracts and, when available, the full text of educational studies.

What does Shamaa provide?

- Provides more than 88,000 studies to students, researchers and people interested in education
- Coaches Master & PhD students on the use of databases and information resources in education
